Thanks for Rain.

"Bless God for rain," the good man said,
And wiped away a peary tear;
That we might have our daily bread,
He drops his showers upon us here.

Our Father, thou who dwellest in heaven,
We thank Thee for that yearly shower;
The blessed present thou hast given
To man and beast, and bird and flower."

The dusty earth, with lips apart
Looked up where rolled an orb of flame,
As though a prayer came from its heart
For rain to come, and lo! it came.

The Indian corn, with silken plumes,
And flowers, with tiny pitchers filled,
Send up their praise of rich perfume.
For precious drops the clouds distill'd.

The modest grass is fresh an green;
The brooklet swells its song again;
In every cloud that brings us rain.

There is a rainbow in the sky,
Upon the arch where tempest trod,
God wrote it over the world was dry—
It is the autograph of God.

“What are the prospects in the country?” asked a city politician of a farmer. “Very poor as regards the crops in my neighborhood.” I mean in reference to the prospects of Buchanan and Breckinridge. “Oh, their prospects are considerably worse than the crops.”

ESSAY ON WIDOWS.—They are the very mischievous. There's nothing like 'em. If they make up their minds to marry, it's done. I knew one that was suddenly afraid of thunder and lightning; every time a storm came on she ran into Mr. Smith's house, (she a widow,) and clasp her little arms and cry around till the man was destracted for fear she would be hit; and the consequence was, she Mrs. John Smith before three under storms had passed over her.

ON THE BRIEF TOUR HAS IMPRESSED US WITH A CERTAINTY OF OUR SUCCESS IN THIS STATE. With 182,000 registered voters—with our Fillmore and Donelson Clubs—with the valuable assistance of the old-line Whigs—with associations of old-line Democrats—with the Protestant associations, with State officers, &c., if we cannot beat a faction in the form of mock Republicanism and sham Democracy, then indeed is New York lost to all sense of patriotism, and the proud position which she occupies in the galaxy of stars. Good cheer, friends, New York is all right.

DANVILLE, KY., FRIDAY MORNING,

From the Hunterdon Gazette.

“He Can't Get It.”

The Americans have now three parties or sections to contend with. First, their ancient and formidable foe, the Democracy—a hard army to fight, as past struggle conclusively prove. We know exactly where to find that party. Next come the Republican—the Anti-Slavery party par excellence—and last, though not least, the faint-hearted and wishy-washy in our own ranks. If Mr. Fillmore is defeated in the coming conflict it will not be by either the Democratic or Republican party, but he will most undoubtedly have to charge it upon those who, while they make no secret of their attachment to him and his principles, have allowed their adroit and unscrupulous enemies to indoctrinate them with the belief.

“HE CAN'T GET IT.”

This is the paltry excuse made by some from whom we hoped better things. Why, if all the men who believe Mr. Fillmore possesses qualities of head and heart greatly superior to either of his opponents, would carry their views into practice, and vote according to their honest convictions, regardless of the chances of success, he would go into the Presidential chair by an overwhelming majority. But because they entertain a doubt of his success, they “can't throw away their votes!” Throw away their votes, forsooth! Better commit them at once to devouring flames, than to throw them away upon either of the other candidates.

It is quite common to hear a man, who seems apparently to be standing in an upright position, and to have a great regard for “back-bone,” speak in this wise: “Oh! I like Mr. Fillmore! He's my choice!” He made a most excellent Chief Magistrate! His was the purest Administration since the days of Washington! I should like to see him elected; but

and I am not going to throw away my vote.” Well, a vote is a great thing, to be sure, but we think that any man who certifies such opinions as those above quoted, and does not contemplate voting for Mr. Fillmore, will act a great deal more consistently in burying his vote fifty feet below the surface of the earth, than in casting it for either of Mr. Fillmore's opponents—for surely, if he thinks that gentleman pure, good, and capable, he must, if he is sane, know and feel that the opposing candidates are as wide apart from him as it is possible to imagine. A most opposite comparison would it be, to liken two lame, halt, and blind Shanghai roosters to the towering and majestic bird of Jove.—“Mr. Fillmore,” says another, “I think, the very best man in the present crisis, to calm the troubled waters of Whig recrudescence. And so mote it be.

“HE CAN'T GET IT.”

Which was purchased with care, and of the very latest and most fashionable styles. His armchairs, in a few days, will contain by far the largest, handsomest, and best assortment of chairs, Chamber, and Dining Room Furniture, both imported and of home manufacture, ever offered for sale in Danville.

Democracy opposes squatter sovereignty, and defends squatter sovereignty—opposes internal improvements by the General Government, and votes for internal improvements by the General Government—opposes the slave-agitation, and defends the slavery agitation—calls Americanism a Whig trick, and then turns round and invites the patriotic Whigs to support Buchanan. Such is Democracy in our eyes!

A court in Illinois, however, has the question before it for decision, what constitutes Democracy? The affair originated thus: A Democrat at Alton subscribed $25 to sustain a Democratic paper, but afterwards refused to pay his subscription because the editor's views of Democracy did not coincide with his own. The editor sued for the money. Several prominent Democrats were called to the stand, but the testimony as to what Democracy was was decidedly incongruous and conflicting. The justice decided in favor of the editor, but the subscriber took appeal to a higher court, and a ripe time is expected in taking testimony on the main question. The only way to get a just decision of the difficult problem is to summon Mr. John Van Buren and some distinguished Southern politicians, say Jeff. Davis. If they are competent to define Democracy as it is in the year 1846, the courts will be obliged to give up the cause as insoluble, unless Halleck, who drew up the resolutions at Cincinnati—a man who thinks the comfortable land of the evil one too happy a place for a slaveholder, can decide the matter.—Nash. Gazette.

“HE CAN'T GET IT.”

How under Heaven, man, do you expect him to get it, unless his friends vote for him? Was there ever an instance known, of a man's being elected to office without the votes of his friends? We very much suspect the truthfulness of a man who makes use of this silly excuse to desert his pretended favorite.—We can hardly believe him to be ‘sound corn.’ Granting him honesty, he is most lamentably deficient in firmness of spirit. He is one of those kind of friends who are to you like swallows in the sunshine, and fly away in the dreariness of winter. Let us here no more

“HE CAN'T GET IT.”

The Duty of the South.

The Richmond Whig, after announcing the defeat of Buchanan in Maine, asks the following question:

“We now put it to the Southern people of all parties, if they sincerely desire to defeat Fremont, to say whether it would not be the part of wisdom, patriotism and sound policy, to unite at once upon Mr. Fillmore, and give him the united vote of the Southern States; which, added to the vote of his own State, which he will certainly get, will elect him President, and thus prostrate Black Republican sectionalism, now and forever. This, we earnestly maintain, is a momentous question for the consideration of Southern men; and upon its decision, we verily believe, hangs the fate of the Union, and the safety of the South. What say the frank, intelligent, patriotic people of the South to the proposition we have suggested?—Banish party and party views from your minds, and ponder it calmly and deliberately. Is it not just? Is it not evidently patriotic? Is it not the very surest means of defeating Fremont? We pray you to answer in all candor and in all honesty.”

From the N. O. Bulletin.

The Work Goes Bravely On.

While some old worn out, trading politicians, who cannot use Mr. Fillmore for the advancement of their own selfish purposes, are quitting him for the more plausible sectional candidates, the people are flocking to his standard, as they see more and more clearly the dangerous condition the country is in, and the utter hopelessness of any alteration for the better from either of the two sectional parties. That the old-line Whigs will almost to a man vote with the American party in this great struggle for the salvation of the Union, and the consequent perpetuity of the institutions which have been bequeathed to us by sages and heroes such as the world never before saw, may be considered certain. Nor is this all. There are many men in the Democratic ranks who are not to be driven by the lash of the party whip from the deliberate conclusions of their own judgments, whose intelligence, patriotism, and devotion to the country in this day of its peril, will cause them to rise above party, and to pursue that course which duty in the present emergency plainly dictates.

There are tens of thousands of such men in the Democratic party who will vote for Millard Fillmore, just as sure as their lives are spared till the election. We speak advisedly and with deliberation. The evidence of this is thickening around us and gathering strength every day.

Humors of the Canvass.

The Great November Race over the National Course.

A race! a race! and who will win? Who will be out? and who will be in? Trot out your nags—we'll see who'll take From all the Presidential slate!

On the 4th of November will be decided the great race between the following well known nags:

FILLMORE—Full blooded American Union; winner of 2d cup, 1848. Entered by Uncle Samuel.

BUCHANAN—Sired by Turncoat and Leader, in the great bargain and sale scheme, where the people's favorite, Clay, inhumanly lamed for life. Entered by Hard up.

FREMONT—Sire Disunion. Entered by the colored folks.

LUCRATIVE SCHEME.—“Come, Bob, tell us how much you cleared by your wild land speculation?” “Clared! ah cleared my pockets!”

Every man to his trade.” — Sam.

Tricks of the Enemy.

We wish to caution our American friends against the “insidious wiles” of the Sag Niights, says the Memphis Eagle.

We learn that they approach Americans in this way: “We want to sent Fremont. Will you vote for the strongest man for that purpose?” The American answers yes. “Well, now, the fight is between us,” says the Sag Niight, “Fillmore stands no sort of a chance, come, pledge yourself at once for Buchanan.” He is a very weak American who could be led off by such a trick. If water was as weak as he, it would not have strength enough to run down hill. Stand to your man! he can be elected. He is twice as strong in the North as Buchanan, and much stronger, or will be in November than Fremont. Take the Americans and Whigs, and they can elect Fillmore, there is no sort of a doubt of that—Whig Fillmore's great and increasing strength in the North is known in the South, the Southern States will go for him. Every breeze from the North, wafts to us the noise of the tramp of the Fillmore hosts, and the clangor of their arms. Americans of the South, be of good cheer. The day will be ours. Mark it.

FRIDAY, - SEPTEMBER 26, 1856.

"Put none but Americans on Guard."

"FILLMORE AND THE UNION."

"If there be those, North or South, who desire an administration for the North as against the South, or for the South as against the North, they are not the men who should give their suffrages to me. For my own part, I know only my country, my friends, my neighbors, and nothing but my country." —MILLARD FILLMORE'S ADDRESS AT HIS LANDING AT NEW YORK.

"The foundation of my preference is, that Mr. Fillmore has administered the Executive Government with signal success and ability. He has been tried and found true, faithful, honest, and conscientious." —HENRY CLAY.

Fillmore, Donelson and the Union!

A GRAND AMERICAN
Mass Meeting & Babecue!

Will be held AT STANFORD, on the 23d day of October, 1856.

Everybody is invited.

The Americans of Clarksville, Tenn., have depated Mr. Brice, an artist of that place, to Buffalo to paint a portrait of Mr. Fillmore.

The Missouri papers contain the inaugural address of Governor Geary to the people of Kansas, and two proclamations issued by him. He commands "all bodies of men, combined, armed, and equipped with munitions of war, without authority of the Government, instantly to disband or quit the Territory, as they will answer the contrary at their peril."

A leading democratic paper of Pennsylvania, the Montrose Democrat, scoffs at the idea of the Black Republicans voting for Fremont in preference to Buchanan. Fremont, the editor says, "has all his life been pro-slavery, while it is notorious that Buchanan has all his life been anti-slavery."

The Frankfort Commonwealth says since the Whig National Convention at Baltimore has pronounced in favor of Mr. Fillmore, the Democratic papers have discovered that the delegates were not genuine Whigs, but "Know-Nothings in disguise." This is a most wonderful discovery, a pretence most rich in absurdity and insolence. According to these Democratic authorities there are no genuine Whigs now, save the few scattering ones who stultify themselves by supporting Buchanan—the life-long opposer of Whig principles, and the unscrupulous and cowardly defamer of the great founder of the Whig party.

There is strong probability, that California will go for FILLMORE. Hon. H. S. FOOTE, late a Democratic U. S. Senator from Mississippi, has taken the stump, and is canvassing the State for Fillmore and the Union.

A letter from Washington city—published in the Lexington Observer and Reporter—says that Robert J. Walker, Secretary of the Treasury under Mr. Polk, and Gen. Morehead of Pennsylvania, Cass State elector in 1848, publicly give it as their opinion, that Buchanan is already defeated. They will both vote for him; but say he cannot carry a single Northern State—not even Pennsylvania.

THE WORK GOES BRAVELY ON IN THE SOUTH.—The Montgomery, Alabama Mail, says the people are showing fully in Alabama, that they intend to give the go-by to the little dodgy, shuffling politicians who wish to deliver them over to the representative of Squatter Sovereignty.

The Democrats and Americans are RALLYING to Fillmore, about as fast as Buchanan's GERMAN friends are going to FREMONT!

GEORGIA.—The Augusta Chronicle speaks of the Fillmore prospect in that States as every way encouraging. "Every thing," says the editor, "tends to convince us that Fillmore will carry Georgia by a sweeping majority, if his friends will do their duty."

Here is what the Cleveland Plain Dealer, one of the chief Buchanan organs in Ohio, let a correspondent say of Mr. Buchanan just before his nomination at Cincinnati:

"I hate this sham statesman [James Buchanan], who, like a colossal huckster, sits on the top of the Alleghenies, offering to sell Pennsylvania—to sell her future and her past—to South Carolina or the Devil for a chance in the Presidential race."

The following gentlemen were the delegates in attendance from Kentucky, upon the National Whig Convention at Baltimore:

H. T. DUNCAN, Judge S. S. Nichols, J. S. McFarland, Nathaniel Wolfe, J. M. Wing, John B. Trotter, D. C. Humphreys, Alexander DeLaine, W. A. Dickinson, A. Throckmorton, R. Apperson, Jr., John Throckmorton.

THE CASE IN A NUTSHELL.—DANIEL PECK, Esq., American nominee for the Supreme Bench of Ohio, sets forth the evil of the times, and the remedy, briefly but clearly in the few words following?

Now the sections are arrayed against each other. If Buchanan should be elected, the North will be greatly dissatisfied, and if Fremont should be elected, the South will consider itself insulted and in a great measure excluded from any participation in the government of the country; but if FILLMORE should be chosen by the people to be their Chief Magistrate, neither section could claim that higher views will be held.

There is no old salt to be had, and shipmen to the United States labour under the additional disadvantage of having to contend with the increased price of their suds, for which they have now to pay 9d each instead of 8d as formerly.

SALT ON THE ADVANCE.—The Liverpool Times says:

Owing to the excessive demand for salt for the Baltic and East Indies, this article has experienced a rapid and sudden advance, and cannot now be bought under 7s 7d to 8s per ton, and it is expected that higher views will be held.

There is no old salt to be had, and shipmen to the United States labour under the additional disadvantage of having to contend with the increased price of their suds, for which they have now to pay 9d each instead of 8d as formerly.

FROM KANSAS.—The following despatches contain the late advices from Kansas.

ST. LOUIS, Sept. 20.

The steamer Polar Star, which has just arrived, brings accounts that fifty pro-slavery men, under Capt. Robinson, were attacked at Hickory Point by two hundred Abolitionists, under Harvey.

The Abolitionists fired two hours at a house where the pro-slavery men were stationed. One pro-slavery man was killed, and nearly all the rest were wounded. Twelve Abolitionists were killed, and seventy wounded. Next day Robinson defeated one hundred Abolitionists at Grasshopper, capturing all their stores and killing two men.

ST. LOUIS, Sept. 20.

The system of teaching pursued will be thorough progressive, and after the lesson method. Special attention will be paid to a graceful, neat, and finished performance. In order to accomplish this object, the number of pupils will be limited. As to the success he has met with after an experience of many years, he refers the public to nearly every respectable family in Fayette and the adjoining counties.

Those wishing to secure his services, will please address letters to Mr. W. W. Westover's residence, or address him through the Post-Office, box 146.

ST. LOUIS, Sept. 20.

Late accounts from Kansas state with confidence that Reid's men would go to Lawrence and there await the commands of Gov. Geary. Most them had enrolled themselves in the newly organized militia, and become permanent citizens of the Territory.

The insurgents had acceded to the requisitions of the Governor, and disbanded.

Lane, with one hundred and fifty of his men, had retired towards Iowa and Nebraska, with all the stolen horses, stock, &c.

There is little doubt that Fernando Wood will be the regular nominee for mayor of New York city by the Democracy for re-election. The Americans talk strongly of nominating John N. Gemini, an active, honest, capable good man, for the office.

DANVILLE:

Friday, :::::: Sept. 26, 1856.

NEW MUSIC.—See the advertisement of Mr. W. M. STOUT.

WINTER.—We have had several heavy frosts during the past week. The first was on Monday morning, and the weather since has been "delightfully" cool.

SALES.—Mr. W. LIGHTFOOT's sale of crop, stock, &c., takes place to-day.

The sale by Mr. JAS. E. GILLESPIE, of his valuable town residence, furniture, crop, &c., will be held on Tuesday next.

Mrs. WIEHL advertises that her new fall stock of bonnets and millinery goods of every description, will be opened on Thursday next. She has a very large and handsome stock, embracing all the latest styles.

POSTPONEMENT.—We are requested to state that the opening of Mr. L. H. RALSTON's Male School has been postponed until Monday week, October 6th, at which time it will commence, at the Locust Grove School house. The time has been changed on account of the illness of Mr. R.

FALL STYLES—MILLINERY AND FANCY GOODS.—Mrs. H. D. COLLINS has received her fall stock of goods, embracing a large and beautiful variety of the most fashionable bonnets and other millinery goods. The Ladies will of course call and see her. Advertisement next week.

KENTUCKY CONFERENCE.—The Kentucky Conference of the Methodist E. Church South, closed its annual session in Winchester on Thursday last. The list of appointments of preachers for the ensuing year, for which we are indebted to the kindness of Rev. Dr. LINS, will be found in another column. It will be seen that Dr. L. has been changed from the church in this place, and stationed at Lexington. Our citizens generally, and especially the church which has enjoyed his ministerial labors, will give him up with great reluctance. His eloquence in the pulpit, and his Christian sociability in every day life, have won him hosts of friends, who will much regret his departure from our midst.

Rev. Dr. L. G. HICKS succeeds Dr. LINN, in the pastoral charge of the Methodist Church in this place. He is said to be a successful and talented pulpit orator, and a most estimable Christian gentleman.

THE FAIR.—The entire exhibition held by the Central Kentucky Association on the fair grounds near this place, during last week, passed off in an exceedingly gratifying manner. The attendance of spectators, especially on the last two days, was very great, and much satisfaction was expressed at the splendid show of stock in every department. The full list of premiums will be found in this number of our paper. It will be seen that there were a goodly number of entries in nearly every ring, so that the premiums awarded were compete for in a spirited manner.

THE NATIONAL WHIG CONVENTION.—This body met in Baltimore last week. Delegates were in attendance from twenty-six States, and a more respectable and talented body of men has never assembled in the Union. The attendance far exceeded the most sanguine expectations.

Great enthusiasm and unanimity prevailed during the entire session, and the resolutions, declaring their unshaken adherence to the old Whig party and principles, but expressing a decided, unhesitating preference for Fillmore and Donelson over all other candidates before the people, were received with prolonged applause.

The delegates were all Whigs—nothing but Whigs—not Democratic Buchanan Sag Nichts Whigs, but true blue Cloy Whigs, and their action is hailed with joy by the Americans as a high endorsement of their candidate.

After the adjournment of the Convention, a monster ratification meeting was held in Monumental square, which is said to have been one of the most magnificent displays ever witnessed in the city.

Speeches were made during the session of the Convention, by Ex-Gov. Hunt of New York, Ex-Gov. Graham, of N. C., Hon. Edward Bates, of Missouri, Hon. Messrs. Granger of New York, Rives and Janney of Virginia, and Lunt, of Mass.

We desired to publish a full abstract of the proceedings, but our columns are so crowded, that we are compelled to defer it.

The National Intelligence of Wednesday says: "We have understood that the President will not, at present, receive a Minister from Nicaragua, owing to the unsettled political condition of that Republic." The call was signed by one hundred and fifty, all Democrats.

MR. BELL'S SPEECH.—The speech of our distinguished fellow-citizen, Hon. J. F. BELL, on Saturday last, was listened to by one of the largest assemblies of ladies and gentlemen we have ever seen in our Court House. His remarks throughout were heard with great attention and interest, and he was often interrupted by the enthusiastic applause of the audience. He commenced his speech by referring to his position as a Whig, and to the condition of the Whig party, stating his objections to the principles set forth and advocated by the American organization, but declaring his unabating preference for Mr. Fillmore over all other candidates in the field. He reviewed the life and services of Mr. F., comparing his soundness and patriotism with the time-serving, truckling political course of Mr. Buchanan. The tribute which he paid to the worth and patriotism of Mr. Fillmore, was eloquently expressed and loudly applauded. His address was an able and statesman-like exposition of his views in regard to the political questions of the day, and we regret that our limited space will not allow us to give a synopsis of his remarks. Suffice it to say, that while still adhering to the Whig policy, he has buckled on the armor for Fillmore and the Union, and is now exerting the influence of his commanding talents and eloquence, to advance the success of the American cause.

At the conclusion of Mr. B.'s speech, LOGAN HUNTON, Esq., being loudly called for, responded in a brief and patriotic speech, endorsing the position of Mr. Bell, declaring himself, alike with that gentleman, an old-line Whig, and a warm and decided supporter of Mr. Fillmore.

THE PREMIUM CARRIAGE.—Mr. S. E. FARRAND, of this place, received the premium at the late Fair for the best carriage, "exhibited by maker or dealer." An article in the last Harrodsburg Transcript, in reference to this award, strikes us as being characterized by an exceedingly illiberal and unjust spirit.

Mr. Farrand's coaches are manufactured expressly for him, and are gotten up in the finest and we suppose the best style. The premium carriage is by far the handsomest vehicle we have ever seen. It is complete in every respect, and is finished and trimmed in the most elegant manner imaginable. It appears to us to be very substantial, having every indication of being well and strongly built. It is true, this carriage was not made here, but Mr. Farrand is one of our home men, and if the Association in offering premiums, included dealers as well as makers, Mr. F. is certainly not to blame for exhibiting specimens of the splended vehicles which he keeps for sale.

CLOTHING AT LOW PRICES.—We invite attention to the advertisement of Mr. HENRY JACOBS, who is selling his large stock of fashionable Clothing and Furnishing Goods at greatly reduced prices. He has a large and varied stock, and offers bargains to purchasers.

SUPPER.—We are requested to state that the ladies of Springfield design having a supper during the fair at that place, the proceeds to be given for the benefit of the Presbyterian Church. We doubt not but that the supper will be a rich display of luxuries to gratify the taste, and we are certain that the object is deserving of encouragement.

The Kentucky Tribune.

DANVILLE, KY.

Sep. 26, 1856.

There are forty-four newspapers in Virginia supporting Fillmore and Douglass. The work goes bravely on. Several of the ablest and best men in the State are on the stump, urging the necessity of the South voting for the American candidates to prevent the election of Fremont the only opponent in the field. We have strong faith in the Old Dominion turning right side up, this time.

It is a significant fact, that Martin Van Buren, the Abolition candidate for the Presidency in 1848, was and is now a Democrat.

John P. Hale, the Abolition candidate in 1852, was a Democrat.

John C. Fremont, the Abolition candidate in 1856, was a Democrat, and has hardly been out of the party long enough to swear by any of the principles. —Our Journal.

A REMARKABLE BIRTH.—The Journal des Announces, of Lisle, announces that a married woman residing in a commune near that town, and who has twice been brought to bed of twins, has just been safely delivered of five children—three boys and two girls. All the children are well formed, but small, and are in good health. A singular phenomenon is stated by the Journal to have attended the pregnancy of the woman. During the last two months all the objects before her eyes appeared to be several times repeated, put since her delivery her sight has returned to its natural state.

WEBSTER AND BUCHANAN.—The Boston Atlas remarks that it was WEBSTER'S opinion that CHARLES J. INGERSOLL was not the tool of BUCHANAN when he charged Mr. Webster with being a delinquent and disloyal. And it thinks that when a son (FLETCHER WEBSTER) strikes hands with the would-be assassin of his father, when a friend (CHOATE) embraces the enemy of his departed friend, a scandalous spectacle is presented to the world.

In Kentucky we have the still more "scandalous spectacle" of a son forming a political partnership with the men who branded his father as a gambler, a perjurer and a murderer, to elect a man to the Presidency who originated the infamous charge of "bargain and sale" which blotted the political career of that son's father.
